URGE UNEMPLOYMENT ACTION

PIPELINE BILL INTRODUCED MONDAY

GOVERNOR SUBMITS SUBJECT SAFEGUARD LITTLE OIL MEN

REGULATION OF PIPELINES ADVOCATED BY INDEPENDENT PETROLEUM BODY

AUSTIN, Mar. 3.—(AP)—A pile of bills were offered today in both houses of the legislature, in fifth called session after Governor Moody had sent in another message opening the way for additional subjects.

Representative Coke R. Stevenson of Junction said he would offer his sine die resolution, proposing final adjournment Saturday, this afternoon. He said he preferred quitting Wednesday, but had moved the date up to Saturday at the request of some members.

The penitentiary reformation bills were referred by the respective houses to committees, and these planned to substitute their favorite proposals for them and place the matter in conference, where it was when the fourth special session ended on February 18.

The house had under consideration a bill by Representative Rolland Bradley of Houston and Jack Keller of Dallas, to require the licensing of motor vehicle operators and chauffeurs.

The vote by which the bill regulating duties of the board of regents in leasing University lands for oil and gas development purposes was passed last Thursday was reconsidered to permit the introduction of an amendment giving the board the right to hire any necessary help except of a legal nature. It was repassed with the amendment.

Another bill affecting the leasing of University lands was tabled subject to call. The bill had for its purpose an increase in the power

CARRYING COMMUNISM TO WALL STREET

Bearing John Porter, recently released army deserter, high on their shoulders, these vehement Communists are assembled at the Battery, ready for a descent upon Wall Street, New York City. Notice the lurid banners martyrizing the New Bedford, Mass., man who has just served eighteen months for desertion from the U. S. Army. The demonstration assumed serious proportions at the busy intersection of Broad and Wall Streets, and it was necessary for police to use their fists upon the crowd before it could be dispersed.

MOODY CONFIDENT PRISON LAW WILL YET BE ENACTED

GOVERNOR ANSWERS CRITICS OF REFORMATION IDEA WITH FIGURES

BY R. W. BARRY

AUSTIN, Mar. 3.—(AP)—In spite of the legislature's consistent disagreement over how best to attempt to put the Texas penitentiary system on its feet, Governor Moody has not given up hope by any means. He is still confident some kind of a bill will be worked out under which an industrial plant of some size can be put in Central Texas.

He issued a statement answering critics of his reformation idea and time its release so it would meet the attention of legislators returning today from a vacation that extended from last Thursday.

He pointed out that the legislature, in the final analysis, is the manager of the prison system "because it writes the laws and makes appropriations under which the system must be operated." Then, he called attention to finances of the system. He declared $8,627,690 had been lost since 1919.

"This is considerable bill that has fallen upon the taxpayers of the state," he said. "Those of us who have been advocating prison reform

Dallas High School Students Sentenced In Thrill Robberies

FORT WORTH, March 3.—(AP)—Two Dallas high school boys, with tears in their voices, faced a jury in district court today and asked for a chance to begin life over. The young men, Raymond Snoga and Roscoe Hendrix, were at the end of a trial of robberies that began with a desire for a thrill.

They were charged with robbing two Fort Worth filling stations and with an attempt to rob the Sun Drug company. It was at the drug store that they were caught. The jury brought in a verdict of five years in each of the two robbery cases and two years in the other, making a total of 12 years. This was the minimum that could have been given on the pleas of guilty, and the jury recommended that the time run concurrently. Judge Hosey followed this suggestion, and the boys will have to spend the minimum of five years each in the state penitentiary. They were sentenced following the jury verdict.

Snoga took the stand and said, "I never intended to be a hijacker by trade; I just wanted to see what it was like. I'm guilty of these things. While I was a student in high school I read about hijackings in newspapers and got my idea from them. I think I could make a man of myself if the jury sees fit to be lenient."

While he was saying this, in a way that suggested his voice was about to break, the mother, Mrs. C. B. Snoga, sat inside the rail of the court. She was crying softly.

A few minutes later Hendrix took the stand and said he was seeking a "sort of thrill." "I read about roberies and didn't realize the seriousness until it was too late. I never intended to hurt anyone and took it for granted the victims always would obey."

NEW YORK SENATOR URGES GOVERNMENT MEET UNEMPLOYMENT

HOOVER ADMINISTRATION POLICIES SEVERELY CONDEMNED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(AP)—After Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, had urged in the senate today that the government organize to meet the "unemployment problem," Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, said he deplored "alarms on red scares and communist demonstrations," asserting they were attempts to divert attention from the "real issue of unemployment."

Administration senators struck back when the Hoover policies were attacked.

Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, insisted the responsibility so far as the government was concerned rested upon congress. He said it was up to congress to pass legislation and asked what legislation was proposed.

Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, reminded the senate that there has been pending for two months the house bill enlarging the public buildings program and suggested that "all the senate needs to do is to tend ot its business."

Senator Johnson, republican, California, remarked that the white house statements indicated there was "nothing but prosperity."

Senator LaFollette said he wanted the president to make sure that the spirit of the promises given labor by business leaders at the white house parleys last November was being observed.

WASHINGTON, March 3—(AP)—A demand for organization by the government to meet the unemployment problem was made in the senate today by Senator Wagner of Nw York.

In an address severely condemning the Hoover administration policies on this point, the New York democrat called attention to recent manifestations of unemployment in some large cities.

He proposed that support be given to his bills to provide more information and voluntary cooperation with the states in maintaining clearing houses of jobs and men in search of work, and to provide a long-range plan of business stabilization through the proper timing of government construction.

SENATOR CAPPER BELIEVES TARIFF BILL IN FINAL FORM WILL SUIT PRESIDENT HOOVER

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—Senator Capper of Kansas today indicated his belief that, in effect, the democratic-republican independent coalition is writing a tariff bill which will be agreeable to President Hoover.

While the senate began what it was hoped would be the final week's work on the measure which has occupied it just six months next Saturday, Capper said in a radio address that "it is my belief that the senate discussion and actions will result in tariff rates in line with President Hoover's program, this in spite of the fact that those rates, in the last analysis, will be written in great part by political enemies of the president."

Characterizing Mr. Hoover's first year as president as "a year of fact finding," the Kansas republican asserted that "the policies followed, the program laid down and initiated, the actions taken by President Hoover so far, are along lines that will redound to the best interests of the entire country in the long run."

"It seems to me," he said, "this first year of President Hoover has been a year of fact finding; a year of work on data and blue prints; a year of foundation laying. These are the mark of the engineering mind of President Hoover."

Capper named six major national projects which he said the president had facing him on beginning his term: Farm relief; law enforcement, including prohibition; limited tariff revision, inland waterways, preparation for an approaching economic crisis and promotion of world peace.

He praised Mr. Hoover's handling of the stock market crash as a "masterly piece of work," said that the federal farm board "has helped the situation" and that the success or failure of the inland waterways program would be a later development.

Capper expressed disapproval of the "commission" idea and said he looked for recommendations of the law enforcement commission to be enacted. Good will come from the London naval conference, he added, "though perhaps not to the extent that many of us had hoped."

Three men, Doles, A. W. Bieber, co-pilot, and John W. Slaton, steward, were in the transport when it disappeared.

COMMISSIONER'S ACT RENEWS HOPE HATIEN PEOPLE FOR FREEDOM

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE KISSES HAND OF AGED WOMAN WHO PLEADS FOR HAITI

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 3.—(AP)—Charges that Brigadier General John H. Russell, American high commissioner in Haiti, was a virtual dictator were made to the Hoover commission today by Antoine Rigal, president of a group of seven organizations representing several thousand persons.

Rigal also claimed that President Borno was holding office illegally because his father is French while the Haitian constitution says that only a person having a Haitian father is eligible for the presidency.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, Mar. 3.—(AP)—William Allen White, newspaper publisher of Emporia, Kansas, and member of President Hoover's investigation commission here, has excited the entire populace of this capital with an act of his last night.

While a parade of Haitian women passed before White, who was standing at the gate of the Hotel Excelsior, where the commission is residing, one of the women, an aged negress dressed in black, stepped in front of him and said: "Please commissioner, deliver us."

As she spoke she bowed. White grasped her hand, bowed himself and then kissed her hand. For a moment everyone was quiet. Then there was a roar of wild cheers.

Cries of "Long live the commission" and "Long live President Hoover" were heard on all sides. Women leaders cried with happiness and said the Emporia man's act was one of the greatest gestures of friendship the Hoover group could have made toward Haiti.

Previously members of the investigation committee had prevented an interuption by the national gardes of a demonstration which the Haitians wished to stage in protest at the American occopation and in expression of the hope for restoration of self government.

POSSIBILITY OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN U. S. AND JAPAN

EXCELLENT PROGRESS REPORTED JAPANESE RATIO DEMANDS FOR NAVIES

LONDON, Mar. 3.—(AP)—A tentative agreement between the United States and Japan on the Japanese demand for a seventy per cent ratio was said to be looming large as a possibility today.

Excellent progress was reported to have been made in conversations between Senator David A. Reed, American delegate, and Ambassador Matsudaira of the Japanese delegation.

These two old friends have been discussing the Japanese American problems informally in private, and their talks will continue this week.

It was understood the conversations have been along lines of exploration of the whole field f possibilities, especialy the possible increase of Japan's ratio in submarines as compared with capital ships under the Washington treaty. They also are trying to devise some scheme whereby the date of laying down of cruisers by one country would control the right of the other country to construct additional cruisers.

The United States has now become prime mover in the negotiations with Japan while Great Britain is awaiting the outcome. The previous British negotiations with the Japanese extending two or three weeks are said to have resulted in a deadlock. The British are being kept informed on the progress of the American Japanese conversations.

Meanwhile, the experts' committee which has been considering the classification of special ships has reached an agreement and its report has gone to the printers.

"Do you," inquired Mrs. Dahlstrom, "put out things?"

"We put out fires," said the firemen.

"Put him out," she said, pointing to Mr. Dahlstrom, who sat quietly in the corner, a corncob pipe in his mouth. From time to time he inhaled deeply.

"He's no fire," said the firemen.

"Maybe not," said the lady, "but I'm firing him now. He sits around all day Sunday just smoking. If you have a spark of energy, you will extinguish him from my presence."

Dahlstrom in his chair inhaled deeply. He seemed in deep thought.

The fifemen gave Mrs. Dahlstrom a hurt look and stomped away.

"We do not put out husbands," they said.

PROPERTY LOSS IN WATER FRONT BLAZE PLACED AT THREE MILLION DOLLARS

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 3.—(AP)—A river front fire of undetermined origin, which burned to death one man and injured 13 others, was brought under control today after damaging a wharf, two warehouses and a steamship. Leonard Smith, warehouse supervisor, estimated the loss at $3,000,000.

POLICE CONTINUE WAR ON DOGS; FIVE KILLED BY OFFICERS

Five dogs running at large were summarily executed over the weekend as city officers began an intensive campaign to rid the city of its canine undesirables, after the attack on little Miss Nancy Mason Saturday morning.

Plans were being made Monday to have the dogs making at attack on the girl placed under observation in the care of a veterinarian. Meanwhile all stray dogs are being executed as promptly as they are found, Patrolman Ed Sheets reported Monday morning.

Persons having pets are urged to keep them confined to their own premises, and if they show any signs of unusual behaviour to watch them carefully and notify police officers.

Police officials asked Monday that the people of Corsicana aid them as far as possible by protecting their own pets and reporting any stray animals in their neighborhoods. The public is asked to confine stray dogs if possible and then call officers.

While no serious outbreak of rabies is expected, city officials are overlooking no opportunities to rid the city of undesirables, following the finding of one rabid dog and the possibility of its having transmitted the infection to others.

A GOOD WOMAN GONE TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. T. A. Aston departed this life on the 15th day of February, 1930, at the ripe old age of 70 years and 24 days.

Mary Jane Gilley was born in Bosque county, Texas, on the 22nd day of January, 1860.

She professed religion and united with the Methodist church at the age of 14 years and ever after lived a devoted Christian life until her Maker called her to her reward, always being an humble and consecrated follower of the Saviour whom she professed—a living, walking example of the mother in Israel that she was.

She was married to T. A. Aston on December 25th, 1877 near the town of Kerens, Navarro county, Texas.

To this union were born nine children, four of whom are still living, Mrs. Letha Britton of Corsicana, Texas, Rice K. Aston of Chatfield, Texas, Mrs. Albert Ashton of Waxahachie, Texas with whom she spent her last days, and Mrs. Floyd Herrin of Italy, Texas.

Mrs. Aston was confined to her bed for several months before her passing on, and during this time her suffering was intense, but through it all she was watched over and ministered to by the loving hands of her devoted children. Through this trying ordeal they did every thing within human power to comfort and soothe the declining body, prompted by the love they had for that one whose love and anxiety for her own knew no bounds. And that soul mate who had walked down the pathway of life, side by side, hand in hand with her for more than fifty years, was ever at her side, showing in every word and act that the love of his young manhood had grown in intensity until she was his only thought and her presence was his greatest consolation.

She was conscious to the last and at all times declared her preparedness to meet her Savior on the shore of sweet deliverance where peace is eternal and suffering is unknown.

The body was accompanied to Frost, Texas, where it was tenderly laid to rest in the presence of a host of neighbors among whom she had lived for 46 years. The floral tribute was very beautiful, showing the love and respect they had for their departed neighbor, whose memory they will ever cherish.

A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this method of epressing our thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of our beloved sister and aunt.

Especially do we thank them for their many consoling words, and for their beautiful floral offerings. May God's richest blessings rest upon each and every one of you, is our prayer.

Millionaire Sheriff Of Hidalgo and Seven Others Are Indicted

HOUSTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A. Y. Baker, wealthy Hidalgo county sheriff, and seven other persons indicted by a federal grand jury last night for conspiracy in connection with the 1928 general election, made bond of $1,000 each today.

W. L. Pearson, Houston contractor, and W. L. Lipscomb of Edinburg, a county commisisoner, signed the bonds.

The bills specifically charged a "conspiracy to injure persons in the exercise of civil rights."

The government investigation began after independent Republicans had alleged that the Weslaco box in Hidalgo county had been thrown out to assure the continuation of the Baker Democratic administration.

The others indicted besides Baker were County Judge A. W. Cameron, County Clerk Cam E. Hill, County Commisisoners William D. Chaddick, and Sam M. Hargrove, former County Commissioner Marvin Evans, Tom J. Buckaw, president election judge at the Weslaco box, Edmund P. Williams, clerk at the box.

Two lawyers, old friends of Mr. Baker, arrived here today. They were James H. Daugherty of Beeville and E. F. Smith of Austin, but Baker said he had not employed counsel yet.

"These men are old friends of mine, and when they heard about it they came on to Houston."

"Are you going to ask for a quick trial?" he was asked.

"Yes, the quicker the better."

A celebration last night by the opposing political faction at McAllen an din other towns in Hidalgo county was mentioned. The celebration followed receipt of news of the indictments.

"When anything happens they think they have to do something," he remarked. "Just a spurt."

Mr. Baker will leave during the day for San Antonio. The others will return to the Valley.

HOUSTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Indicted, along with seven others, for violations of the national election laws by conspiracy, A. Y. Baker, "millionaire sheriff" of Hidalgo county, faced today the most material threat ever made against his long political leadership in the Rio Grande valley.

Baker, a former Texas ranger, heard last night without comment that a federal grand jury, which began Monday an investigation of the conduct of the 1928 general election in Hidalgo county, had brought bills charging him and the seven with "conspiracy to injure persons in the exercise of political rights."

It was the first clear cut victory for the "independent republicans" of the county, who long had been alleging that the Weslaco box illegally was thrown out in order to save the Baker regime from defeat.

A previous grand jury at Brownsville had investigated without making a formal report, and Fred Horowitz of Los Angeles, special United States attorney general, had sought and obtained the transfer of the matter to Houston.

All those indicted and around 20 other persons went before the grand jury in its four-day inquiry.

The democratic chieftain kept to his hotel last night while the report was being made, and the eight planned to make bond of $1,000 each today.

Ed Williams, Harlingen newspaperman, election clerk at the Weslaco polls, another of those indicted, said immediately afterward: "Just a bunch of politics."

"This is just the beginning," Horwitz remarked.

The others billed were County Judge A. W. Cameron of Edinburg, County Clerk Cam E. Hill of Edinburg, County Commissioner William D. Chaddick of Mercedes, former county commissioner, Marvin Evans of Pharr, County Commissioner Sam M. Harbrove of Mercedes and Tom J. Buckow of Weslaco, election judge.

Baker had been mentioned as a possible entrant in the Texas gubernatorial race.

For 18 years he had served the county as sheriff and had become the acknowledged 'regular' democratic leader in his section. His personal fortune has been estimated unofficially at several millions.

WORK ON HIGHWAY TOWARD MILDRED TO START NEXT WEEK

Actual work on the grading and drainage structures on the 3.949 miles a point near the city limits of Corsicana on South Seventh street to the Three Way Filling Station will likely get under way next week in the event that he weather conditions permit.

The working order allowing J. T. Leslie, contractor, to start work was received Saturday, according to A. B. Purnell, Navarro county engineer. The contract was recently awarded by the State Highway department but the working order was not issued until all of the right-of-way had been procured, or the necessary steps taken to insure the right-of-way. The contract for the dumn and drainage structures is $36,697.31 and is to be completed in 90 working days. The contract calls for the time of 90 working days to start, March 15, but a number of days work will be done prior to that time if weather conditions permit.

The stretch of road to be worked under this contract is the first on State Highway 133, the Corsicana-Palestine highway. The engineering work on the remainder of the road from the Three-Way Filling Station to a point near Eureka, at the eastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1 is in progress and will be completed within the near future, it is understood, and the Navarro county commissioners court will begin the securing of the necessary right-of-way as soon as possible.

Highway 139, the Corsicana-Palestine road, will join National highway 75 near the city limits on South Seventh street.

WEST VIRGINIAN ATTACKS DEMOCRATS AND INDEPENDENTS

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Blame for delay in passage of the tariff bill was placed on the coalition democrats and republican independents in a two-hour speeach in the senate today by Senator Goff, republican, West Virginia.

He accused the coalition of obstructing the bill in ordering the coming congressional elections to lay the blame for business uncertainty on the republican party and denounced the lowering of many existing industrial levies.

After reviewing the history of the republican protective tariff policy and the pledges of the two parties in the last campaign, the West Virginian referred to the defeated Borah resolution of last June which would have confined the tariff revision to the farm schedules and characterized it as class legislation.

Efforts Place Duty On Oil Defeated

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—The Democratic-Independent Republican coalition was still master of the tariff stuaton today as the senate devoted its attention to a proposal that a duty be fixed upon long staple cotton, now on the free list.

With some help from administration Republicans to offset the defection of Democratic members, the coalition has now maintained its numerical superiority through two crucial roll calls and in the face of the determined efforts of its opponents to break its grip long enough to place a tariff on lumber and oil.

The second of these tests came late last night on a proposal that crude oil be made dutiable at one dollar a barrel and petroleum products, including gasoline, at 50 per cent ad valorem. By a vote of 39 to 27, the proposal was defeated and oil ratained upon the free list.

The roll call came as the climax of a session in which there were charges of vote trading on sugar and oil, allegations that the American Independent Petroleum Producers' Association had attempted to foster such an exchange and had even been "willing to trade the president of the United States on this deal."

This assertion was made by Senator Blaine, Independent Republican, Wisconsin, members of the Carraway lobby committee, which during the day had questioned Wirt Franklin, president of the association, on its activities in behalf of the oil tariff. Blaine declared the methods of the association "nefarious and damnable."

A group of a half dozen Southwestern senators, both Democrats and Republicans, came to Franklin's defense. Allen of Kansas, Republican, asserted the independent producers were endeavoring to stabilize a "stricken industry" and had sent representatives to Washington to seek "influence in a perfectly proper way."

OKLAHOMA SENATOR MAKES PLEA TO PUT DUTY ON IMPORTS

ISSUE SAID TO BE BETWEEN INDEPENDENTS AND HANDFUL POWERFUL PRODUCERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The senate began debate today on a proposal of Senator Thomas, democrat, Oklahoma, for a duty of one dollar a barrel on crude oil and fifty per cent on petroleum by-products.

Oil, now on the free list, had been mentioned in reports that a new coalition had been formed to put through rates on this product and lumber and a higher tariff on sugar. The Jones lumber tariff amendment was defeated by five votes last night. Sugar will not come up before next week.

Senator Jones, republican, Washington, announced today he would seek another vote later on his lumber duty proposal.

Opening debate, Senator Thomas said the oil industry was in "extreme distress" with price cuts occurring frequently and plans being made for further curtailment of production.

The issue, he argued, was between the independents and a "handful of powerful producers including the standard group, the Gulf and the Royal Dutch Shell."

Scores Smoot Committee.

Thomas said Chairman Smoot of the finance committee might as well have called W. C. Teagle of the Standard Oil of New Jersey, John D. Rockefeller and Secretary Mellon instead of appointing Senators Reed, Pennsylvania, and Edge, New Jersey, republican, and King, democrat, Utah, as a sub-committee to hear evidence on an oil tariff.

He understood, he added, that Edge, now ambassador to Paris, was a brother-in-law of Teague and that Reed was a former counsel for the Mellon-Gulf interests.

Senator Smoot interrupted at this point to say "there was no trickery or underhanded work" in appointing the sub-committee.

The trouble with the oil industry of America was not over production, but over importation, Thomas contended.

"If the American market was given to the American producer," he continued, "there would be no surplus."

The Oklahoma senator listed domestic production at 900,000,000 barrels a year and imports at 193,000,000, and said Venezuelan oil could be laid down in Atlantic seaboard cities at 75c a barrel while the domestic oil sold for $1.07.

He declared the Shell interests could produce gasoline from its Venezuelan oil at three cents a gallon.

Thomas asserted the Standard, Gulf and Shell groups "fied the price of oil" and added "the independents cannot live in competition with 75 cent oil and three cent gasoline."

Telegrams from American Legion posts in Oklahoma urging a duty on oil to help relieve unemployment were read by Thomas.

This brought a statement by Senator Tydings, democrat, Maryland, that he could find plenty of ex-service men in his state opposed to the oil tariff. He expressed surprise that the Legion had entered into this "political question."

TRUCK OVERTURNS IN DITCH FRIDAY NEAR HOLLAND

BARTLETT, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Edward Friedman of Tulsa, Okla., and her baby girl, about one year old, were drowned today near Holland, when a truck in which they were riding turned over in a ditch filled with water.

Two other women, a man and several children escaped, but they were unable to rescue Mrs. Friedman and her baby. They were pinned beneath the heavy vehicle.

The bodies were brought here. The party was en route to San Antonio, where Friedman was employed with a Western Union construction force.

The driver of the truck claimed he was crowded off the road by glaring headlights of an approaching automobile. The other car did not stop.

Tuck Reeder, engineer of a locomotive that passed the scene of the accident, could tell that the party was in trouble and when his train reached Smithville, he telephoned to Theo Wilkerson, constable at Holland, who went to the party's assistance.

NAVAL DELEGATES DOING LITTLE WORK WITH FRENCH GONE

LONDON, March 1.—(AP)—Despite efforts of leaders of the five power naval canference to make a show at continuation of their work, the fact is that actually very little negotiation for a naval limitation agreement is under way here pending return of a French delegation to London.

It appears the American-Japanese negotiations for settlement of a cruiser ratio represent the only live issue under discussion, the French attitude being so unalterably involved in other phases it would be unwise to continue discussions without French representation.

It appeared today that Senator Reed, who has become laison man between the American and Japanese delegations, has spoken informally with Ambassador Matsudarira, saying in effect: "Suppose America offered Japan so-and-so what would be Japan's attitude?"

No actual formal ratio has been made, but it was understood some suppositional offer was being considered by the Japanese. One report had it that America had suggested that Japan cut her 70 per cent ratio demand for large cruisers with the understanding that she would be permitted to increase the ratios in small cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

HOUSTON, March 3.—(AP)—An investigation into the death of Deputy Sheriff William Fuchs, 60, veteran Houston peace officer, who died suddenly about midnight Sunday outside a dance hall 18 miles from Houston on the Spring Branch cutoff road, shortly after arresting a dancer, was under way today.

Justice of the Peace Campbell R. Overstreet ordered an autopsy and withheld an inquest verdict. Evidences of a brawl at the hall immediately prior to the death of Fuchs were obtained by Deputy Sheriff George Andrew.

Although there were no marks of violence upon the body, two slight bruises, which could have been caused when Mr. Fucks sank unconscious to the ground near his car or by fist blows, were discovered upon the forehead.

CELEBRATING FIFTEEN YEARS OF PROGRESS

WACO TIGERS WERE DEFEATED IN GO ON TRINITY GYM

LATE RALLY SENT CORSICANA AHEAD; JEFFERS WAS STAR PLAYER

WAXAHACHIE, Mar. 1.—Corsicana will again represent Central Texas in the state basketball tournament to be held in Austin Friday and Saturday, March 7th and 8th. The proteges of Coach Douglas decided that question, much to the approval of the Corsicana fans present, by defeating the Waco Tigers, 29-20, on the Trinity University Gymnasium here Friday night.

The Tigers of Corsicana, after receiving a heart to heart talk from their coach between halves, flashed a sensational offense in the last part of the third period to break the tie that existed throughout the first half, and led 22-16 at the close of the third period.

Adopting delayed offensive tactics in the final period, and flashing a determined fast breaking offense when the slim lead held by the defending champions was threatened, the Corsicana team went into the second straight bi-district title, despite the efforts of the inspired Waco team, which, with five minutes to play, uncorked a rally which fell three points short of knotting the count, before the famed passing attack, Pryor to Clark to Pollard to Jeffers ran the lead to nine points as the final gun sounded.

Hard Fought Game.

The score by quarters shows just how hard fought the game was, and at no time during the first half, did one team have a lead of over five points. The first period ended with the score 7 all, and in the second heat, the Tigers of the Brazos made their only determined bid for the lead, holding for a short time a four point lead, only to see it vanish before the assault of front line players with Pollard and Jeffers each sinking a neat field goal.

Scoring nine points through the efforts of Pryor, Pollard, Granberry and Jeffers, the Corsicana Tigers rolled up a six point lead during the third period and in the first part of the fourth adopted delayed offense tactics, that in the outset, acted as a boomerang as Hilley broke through to sink a neat crip, with three minutes to go, Waco called time out to get organized for a final rush. During the intermission, the Corsicana aggregation must have done the same thing as the lead was increased six points in the remainder of time.

Jeffers High Point.

Jeffers, declared by many to be the "spark plug" of the Tiger offense, was high point man with six field goals, five of which came in the last half.

Hilley, with nine points, led the Waco Tigers in scoring.

Great defensive work was displayed by Pryor and Clark for Corsicana, an Creasey and Howell of Waco, Pryor perhaps, having the edge over his co-stars in this department while Creasey, Waco's defensive player, was a close second.

The contest was regarded as a home-coming affair by a large number of former Corsicana players and teachers ,and among those present were Jack McNutt, declared to be the greatest football player ever produced by the local high school, now attending S. M. U., Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. John Hagler, former assistant football coach at Corsicana, now residing in Dallas; Bill Smith, former physical director of the Corsicana Y. M. C. ., now attending Trinity University; and others attending the University.

Among the distinguished visitors from Waco was Paul Tyson, high school football coach, who witnessed the downfall of the Tigers of the Brazos on the painted court by the inspired Corsicana quint.

A resume of the high points of the game, quarter by quarter follows:

First Quarter.

After a fast exchange of passes and sorties upon the enemy goal, the first scoring of the game was accounted for by Captain Clark, Corsicana, who sank the free toss occasioned by the foul called on Phipps for charging. Pollard rang a field goal from the free throw line in the next few seconds to put the Tigers in the lead 3-0. Both teams were using a fast breaking offense with Hilley and Phipps, Waco front line players, breaking through the Tiger defense to register crip shots that gave Waco a 4-3 lead. Finding the way to the goal blocked by a massed defense of Waco players, the front line men passed the ball back to Captain Clark who sank a neat field goal to once more give the Corsicana Tigers a lead, 5-3.

Pryor going down fast with the Corsicana front line, while Pollard dropped back to guard, slapped one into the goal to give the Corsicana team a 7-3 advantage with about a minute and a half left of the first period. Marion, coming down the side of the court, sunk a sensational shot from the corner of the court to put Waco one point behind.

Phipps, coming down the court, fouled by Pryor and converted gift toss to tie the score. Time out for Corsicana, Pryor hurt on the play. The quarter post found the teams deadlocked 7-7.

Second Quarter.

In the opening minute of the second period, Granberry sank a long field goal to put the defending champions in the lead. Phipps was fouled again by Referee Dutch Meyers, this time for "hacking" but Captain Clark failed to convert. Two fast field goals by Phipps, who was continually breaking into the Tiger defense, put the Waco cagers into the lead, 13-9, after a nice play by Hilley had netted the Tigers of the Brazos a tie count.

Time out, Corsicana, to allow the player a breathing spell from the furious pace set during the contest. Upon the resumption of playing the Corsicana Tigers with Pollard and Jeffers batting field tosses, tied the score. Immediately after the shot by Jeffers which once more knotted the count time out was allowed by Captain Marion for Waco. Only ten seconds remained in the second period and no further scoring was done by either team in the short time, leaving the score tied 13-all as the gun sounded.

The Tiger Teasers pep band following the Corsicana high school, put on a program during the intermission consisting of pep marches and songs. The Corsicana and Waco fans present took turn about in yelling for their team. The game at this point, looked like anybody's and excitement ran high during the intermission for the half. Thunderous chers greeted each team as it returned to the playing court for a short warm up before resuming hostilities.

Third Period.

Playing inspired basketball, and justifying the faith of the loyal Corsicana fans in the powers of the Tigers of Navarro county, the advantage of the game quickly was changed to the Corsicana team when Granberry, in the first minute fouled Hilley who converted, but immediately after the tip off, Corsicana forged into the lead on a sensational check shot by Jeffers. Not to be outdone, Hilley duplicated the feat to give the McLennan county boys a one point lead. Jeffers once more broke through to put the defending champions into the lead, 17-16. Hilley fouled Pollard who converted, giving the Tigers of Corsicana a two point lead. Jeffers, playing inspired basketball, once more registered a field goal, with Pollard feeding him a nice pass under the basket. Waco called time out to find ways and means to cope with the Tiger attack.

Granberry added two more points to give the hard-driving, accurate-shooting Tigers of Corsicana a 22-16 lead. From this point until the end of the quarter, Corsicana adopted stalling tactics, with Pryor and Clark taking turn about bringing the ball up the court in leisurely fashion. This method was in direct contrast to the play in the first part of the game, and led directly to the rout of the Waco team, who did not know how to break up the stalling game.

Fourth Quarter.

In the opening minute of the final period Hilley fouled Pollard, who converted. Fast field goals by Marion and Hilley put the Waco Tigers within three points of the Corsicana team, and constituted the only serious threat in the final half of the Waco team to forge into the lead.

Still employing the stalling tactics, which pulled the entire Waco team away from the goal, the Tigers ran the advantage to five points on the field goal by Jeffers, followed by a shot from the side of the court by Granberry. Time out, Waco. With two minutes remaining of the epochal contest, the Tigers of Corsicana dropped back on the defense and employed stalling tactics. Granberry was fouled by Hilley, but he failed to score. With thirty seconds remaining, Jeffers once more broke through to bring the total score to 29-20 as the final gun sounded.

This was the second time in succession that the Corsicana Tigers have gone to the State meet, last year by defeating Temple on the Waco high gymnasium for the bi-district title. The Waco aggregation this year, declared to be the best put out in seven years, showed a powerful defense and possessed sifficient height to make it practically impossible for the Corsicana team, smaller but faster, to check shots.

CORSICANA TIGERS WILL REPRESENT CENTRAL TEXAS

COMPETITION SCHEDULED TO OPEN IN AUSTIN FRIDAY MORNING

Thirteen high school teams of Texas, champions of bi-districts, will gather in Austin Friday morning of this week for the beginning of the championship basketball tournament of the University of Texas Interscholastic league. Drawings for places in the tournament will likely be held Tuesday or Wednesday. Athens, winner of the championship last year, and winner of the national schoolboy title in the tournament held in Chicago, is the defending champion this year and breezed to the state meet again this year with little effort. Denton, runner-up club last year, is again at the tournament and is one of the teams doped to give the Athens club a run for the honors. Estelline and Corsicana, two other competitors in the State tournament held at Texas A. & M. College last year, are also back this year. Estalline has a strong aggregation, and the Corsicana Tigers have also won a number of games from strong opponents, although they were routed by Athens in early season games.

The Corsicana club that went to the state tournament in 1929 was rent by graduation with the loss of Price, Jones and Wells, but O. P. Douglas, veteran Tiger mentor, has taken a bunch of green material and has whipped together a club that has steadily improved after a slow start and the five is sepping at a lively clip.

All of the bi-district games have been played, but the final results of two have not been tabulated and reported.

Some of the bi-district titles were decided by three-game series while others were decided upon one battle. There are 26 districts in the interscholastic league basketball race.

Tigers Working.

After winning the right to compete in the state meet last Friday night when they defeatedWaco, 29-20, on the Trinity University gymnasium in Waxahachie, the Tigers Saturday resumed intensive training and will be in fine fettle for the state competition. The team is planning to go to Austin early Thursday morning to practice Thurday on the court where the tourney will be staged and to be rested prior to starting the final grind.

Three teams will likely draw byes in the first round of competition which will leave eight teams after the first round.

The following are the contestants to be in the tournament and the teams defeated in the bi-district races, the first named teams being the winners and the second the losers:

Corsicana vs. Waco.
Athens vs. Elkhart.
Estelline vs. Olney.
Ralls vs. Spearman.
Breckenridge vs. Abilene.
Denison vs. Hughes Springs.
Denton vs. Wills Point.
Austin vs. Brownwood.
John Reagan (Houston) vs. Beaumont.
Bowie (El Paso) vs. San Angelo.
Devine vs. Alamo Heights (San Antonio.)
Bryan vs. Halletsville (not reported).
Kingsville vs. Edinburg (not reported).

DETROIT POLICEMEN KILL TWO ROBBERS IN BATTLE IN DARK

DETROIT, March 3.—(AP)— Two policemen, with only a beam of reflected light from a robbers pistol as a target, shot and killed two men attempting to rob the safe of the Harper theater here at 4 a. m., today.

The battle, in which powder burns on the face of one of the officers were the only injuries received by either, occupied in the dark attic of the theater above the main floor of the auditorium.

The robbers were identified as Philip J. Twomey, 30, and Leo Garbada, 30, both of Detroit. Twomey lived until admittance to a hospital, but Garbada was instantly killed.

Patrolman Donald Bondy, on whose beat the theater is located, and Sergeant Isaac Farley, who was cruising in the neighborhood, followed the robbers into the attic after Bondy had discovered the men in the building.

Unable to see the robbers, Farley and Bondy flashed their pocket lights into the corners of the attis. A reflected beam of light from the pistol of one of the thugs gave the policement a momentary target, and they opened fire. Their fire was returned, but the firing ceased before the police guns were empried.

The robbers, who had crawled on the iron pipes paralleling the roof near a ventilator, fell through the thin plastering of the ceiling. Garbada's body fell part way through.

BELIEVED SLIGHT DAMAGE TO RESULT FROM COLD WAVE

Fruit and gardens do not appear to have been severely damaged by the heavy freeze Sunday night. There was only a light frost due to the wind which blew almost all night, but frost is predicted for this section tonight.

There was only a light freeze Saturday night. The low point on the thermometer was 31 but Sunday night a low point of 25 was reached, according to the government readings.

Considerable ice formed in exposed places Saturday night.

GRIM REAPER DEALER IN FINAL GAME WITH POKER ALICE; WINNER

RAPID CITY, S. D., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Death, dealing from "a cold deck," flipped the ace of spades for "Poker Alice" Tubbs yesterday. It was her admission card to the big game that is eternity.

She was one of the last of a coterie of hard living, straight-shooting men and women who added the color—sometimes it was blood red—to the old West. "Deadwood Dick," "Wild Bill" Hickok and "Calamity Jane" were others.

Poker Alice wore a gun, smoked cigars and could swear like a trooper; but in all of her 77 years of life she dealt from the top of the deck.

During a life as adventerous as any mans, she gambled for high stakes without a single betraying quiver of the hand as she dealt; without the twitch of a face muscle. Cold as the steel of the revolver she wore, she sat in unnumbered thousands of high stake games.

Yesterday she bucked a game that she—nobody—could beat. Old age and complications, following an operation for gall stones, were given by doctors as the cause of her death.

Poker Alice was English born, but American bred, and always the gambler. She started as a faro dealer. A woman at the box was a novelty that drew the black beards of the wild West, with their bags of gold, to the gambling table. So successful was she, that soon she was known, not just as a woman gambler, but as a winning gambler, man or woman.

Colorado, Nevada, Montana, the Dakotas—wherever there was pay dirt and hombres with nerve enough to lay it against the turn of a card—there Poker Alice was. She took $6,000 in one night's play at Silver City, New Mexico.

It seems rather strange, in retrospect, that Poker Alice, self-reliant, courageous and able to take care of herself anywhere—should have had time for love, yet she was three times married. Her first husband was a mining engineer, Frank Duffield. Then there came W. G. Tubbs, a gambler who despite a wide reputation of his own, never could equal Poker Alice at the card table. Her third husband was George Huckert.

TEXAS COTTON CO-OPERATIVE BODY NEARS REALITY AFTER CONFERENCE HELD AT DALLAS

DALLAS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Texas Cotton Co-operative, hope of the Texas cotton farmer, was nearing reality today.

Formalities only remained before the machinery for the co-operative to function with the federal farm board could be set up. All details were agreed upon at a conference between leaders in th cotton industry which nded here yestrday.

T. O. Wilson, president of Texas A. & M., as chairman of the special committee named by Governor Moody to work out a feasible plan for Texas farmers to obtain aid from the federal government, presided. In conference, besides members of the committee, were rprsntativs of the farm board, the American Cotton Co-operative, and the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

The co-operative, to be known as the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association; will be built around the Farm Bureau, with the consent of its members. The state will be divided into six districts, each district operating, through the state body, with the federal farm board or its subsidiary, the American Cotton Co-operative.

When any district delivers a minimum of 100,000 bales, it may break away from the parent organization and deal directly with federal agencies. C. O. Moser, executive vice president of the National Cotton Co-operative, will be in charge of getting the co-operative functioning, and it was said that the Texas organization would probably be ready to buy the 1930 cotton crop.

DR. SNOOK PAID WITH HIS LIFE FOR MURDER STUDENT MISTRESS; CALM TO LAST

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 1.—(AP)—Dr. James H. Snook, 50, former Ohio State University professor, who was electrocuted last night for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, was buried at 6 a. m. today in Greenlawn cemetery. The body was taken to the Snook home last night from a funeral director's parlors. Brief private funeral services were held at the home.

COLUMBUS, O., March 1.—(AP)—Dr. James H. Snook, the professor who killed his student mistress, Theora Hix, paid with his life in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary last night.

The former instructor in veterinary surgery at Ohio State university went calmly to death for the crime which he confessed, in his last hours, was deliberately planned to end an affair which threatened to ruin his position and reputation. It was eight months and 18 days after he left the mutilated body of the 24-year-old girl lying on a rifle range near the city.

Dr. Snook, who was 50, walked unassisted to the chair. His manner was cool, his eyes alert, his lips silent. A minister from whom he had just accepted communion intoned a benediction as two guards adjusted electrodes to Dr. Snook's right leg and the top of his head. Six thousand volts of electricity passed through his body in three charges. He was pronounced dead at 7:09 p. m.

Today Dr. Snook's body was at the disposal of his faithful wife. Helen Marple Snook, who visited him daily for the past week as the Ohio supreme court and Governor Cooper refused to intervene in his behalf. She shared his last meal with him and stayed at the penitentiary until he had been executed. Then she went to her home, evading the curious crowds and keeping secret her plans for the burial.

Snook's self control was not shaken during his last hours. Except for a trace of annoyance when the barber was late to shave him and for signs that he had been weeping after parting with his wife, he was perfectly calm as he prepared to die.

His last meal was of fried chicken prepared by the wife of Warden P. E. Thomas. With him were Mrs. Snook; his pastor, Rev. Isaac E. Miller of the King Avenue Methodist Episcopal church; Rev. K. E. Wall, penitentiary chaplain; Oscar Roedell of Pomeroy, Ohio, Dr. Snook's close friend, and Mrs. Frank Landrum of Junction City, Ohio, a cousin of Mrs. Snook.

"We might have been at a picnic," Rev. Miller reported later. "Dr. Snook ate heartily, and we talked of pleasant subjects."

Rev. Miller administered communion to Dr. and Mrs. Snook, and Mrs. Snook took leave of her husband. Snook remarked later to Rev. Miller that "it was too bad it took a bump like this to make him realize how wonderful she was."

MINIATURE WAR STAGED TO END STAND OF INSANE MAN AFTER KILLING HIS WIFE

DEFIANCE, O., March 1.—(AP)—A miniature war in which one-pound shells, tear gas bombs and dynamite were employed to besige a barricaded madman was over today with a casualty list of two dead and three injured, two of them probably fatally.

The dead are Hubert Floehr, 60, escaped inmate of the Toledo state asylum, and his wife, Augusta, 55, whom he killed during a family argument which preceded his five-hour stand in his home against police, county officials, the national guard and volunteer attackers from a watching crowd of 3,000.

The injured are Police Chief Carl A. Weaner, Newell Littlefield, 23, student at Defiance college, and William Chappell, 34, a salesman.

Chappel, shot by Floehr as he attempted to climb through a second story window, and Littlefield, a spectator wounded by a stray shot, were not expected to live.

Chief Weaner dropped with a jagged wound along the left side of his head as he led a storming party.

Floehr, after an argument over his daughter, Elsie, a school teacher at Petersburg, W. Va., shot his wife in the breast and drove his son, William, 26, from the house.

Armed with two guns and supplied with more than a peck of cartridges, Floehr ran from window to window sniping at the authorities called by William.

The Defiance Howitzer company of the national guard set up a .37 millimeter field piece and ripped the house with nine one-pound shells, but Floehr held out.

Finally a citizen, whose name was not learned, crept inside and planted eight sticks of dynamite. The discharge shattered the upper story to bits, and attackers rushed in to find Floehr dying.

A bullet wound in his head indicated he had determined upon suicide.

Freestone County Health Council in Meet Last Friday

TEAGUE, March 3. —(SP)— A meeting of the Freestone county health council was held Friday in the home of Mrs. J. F. Wallace. Due to inclement weather, Dew and Fairfield were the only two places represented besides Teague. The question was again taken up relative to the county raising $1500 to match the $1500 put up by the state in order to secure a county health nurse.

The organization is sending a committee consisting of Mrs. J. F. Wallace and Mrs. P. O. French to Austin to consult with Dr. Bennett in closing the deal. The council will hold another meeting next Friday, at which time they hope to have the matter entirely settled.

WORLD DAY OF PRAYER

TEAGUE, March 3.—(SP)—The annual world day of prayer will be observed as a union service at the First Presbyterian church Friday, March 7, at 3 o'clock p. m. Rev. Julius Caesar Byers, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the sermon upon this occasion.

SCHOLASTIC CENSUS

TEAGUE, March 3.—(SP)—The annual scholastic census of the Teague independent school district was started Saturday, March 1, according to local school authorities, and it is estimated that the number of scholastics will be increased by approximately 100, due largely to the lowering of the school age to 6 years. The census will be completed during the month of March.

The Hamilton-Beeman Memorial association will meet at Mrs. Roy Love's home, 1557 West Third avenue on Wednesday, March 5th, nistead of the 6th. A full attendance is urged.

ELEVENTH FEDERAL RESERVE DISTRICT BUSINESS IMPROVES

ADVENT OF CLEAR AND WARMER WEATHER BRINGS IMPROVED CONDITIONS

DALLAS, March 3.—(AP)—The advent of clear skies after the unusually severe weather in January resulted in generaly improved business conditions in the Eleventh Federal Reserve District, the monthly business review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, made public today, disclosed.

January weather retarded the distribution of merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels, affected adversely the agricultural and livestock industries and curtailed activities in other fields," the report stated.

"Sales of department stores in large centers evidenced more than the usual seasonal recession and were materially lower than in the opening month of 1929. Reports indicate that consumer buying in rural sections, likewise, was on a small scale as the situation created by the cold weather was aggravated by the bad roads. While distribution in most lines of wholesale trade was smaller than the small December volume, it fell considerably below that for the corresponding month last year."

Business Improves.

The review said that since the return of fair weather reports has been received that business was showing a noticeable improvement.

Agriculture and livestock also were hard hit by the bitter cold, according to the report. Agricultural operations were retarded and all growing crops heavily damaged. "Winter grains suffered considerably in those areas where the snow covering was insufficient for protection," the review stated. "Other vegetation in most sections except in the extreme southern part of the state, was killed and truck farmers of that section suffered heavy losses. Furthermore, the wet soil delayed the preparation of the land for spring planting. Livestock shrank considerably. In some sections where stock was not in good flesh, losses were numerous and heavy feeding was neccssary nearly everywhere."

The report added that favorable weather prevailing since the first of February had greatly improved the situation. Rain and snow left a good season in the ground and the soil was said to be in excellent condition for plowing and planting.

Building at Low Ebb

The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities declined to a low level in January, the volume for the month being 31 per cent less than in December and 21 per cent below January last year," said the review. "The production, shipments and new orders for lumber, while larger than in the previous month, were much smaller than a year ago.

"According to the report of the Department of Labor, the decline in manufacturing activity and the stoppage of much outdoor work brought about a reduction of employment during January. While chemical plants, oil refineries, and coal mines added to working forces many of the other industries reduced their forces. A surplus of unskilled labor is apparent in practically all sections of the district."

The review contained an optimistic report on the banking situation. Member banks in this district gradually strengthened their position during the first six weeks in 1930, it was said. "Borrowings at the Federal Reserve Bank, which amounted to $13,290,916 on December 31, increased sharply during the first week of January but had declined to $12,452,455 on Feb. 15.

"This reduction was occasioned by the rapid retirement of borrowings by reserve city banks which more than offset the gradually expanding demand from country banks. The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks which totaled $884,579,000 in January, was practically the same as in December but was $66,318,000 less than in January, 1929."

Cotton Market Weak.

Weakness in the raw cotton market and the unsettlement of the cotton goods prices was given as one of the reasons, along with the weather, for slow trade in January. "Reports indicate that merchants are following a very cautious buying policy and are hesitating to make sizeable purchases until the situation becomes more favorably defined," the review stated.

Summarizing the changes in the livestock industry during 1929, the review called attention to a table showing that the most pronounced price recessions occurred in the case of cattle, sheep and goats, where a number of animals on farms reflected a substantial increase during the year. "The aggregate value of cattle, sheep and goats on farms in Texas on January 1, 1930, was 6 per cent less than a year earlier despite the substantial increase in number," according to the report.

"A substantial reduction in loans, a sharp increase in time deposits, and a falling off in net demand deposits were the principle changes in the status of member banks in principal cities of the district during the four-week period ended February 5."

Operations of cottonseed oil mills were said to have reflected a further decline in January and the production of cottonseed product during the first half of the current season was considerably smaller than in the same period of the previous season. Textile mills were more active than in the preceding month but showed a decrease in activity from the corresponding month last year. Cotton movements through Houston and Galveston declined.

Attempt Made to Enter Safe Local Oil Corporation

Officials of the Central Texas Refining Company discovered Sunday that an attempt had been made to enter the safe in their quarters on the sixth floor of the State National bank building. A check-up failed to reveal anything missing with the possible exception of some blank checks.

The doors of the offices are usually left open and it is not known when the attempt on the safe was made. The knob was considerably battered.

JUDICIARY GROUP TO END HEARING ON PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—Chairman Graham of the house judiciary committee said today it had been definitely decided to end tomorrow wet presentation of their case against prohibition. Those opposing the Eighteenth amendmend were to have closed their testimony last week, but an extension of time was allowed because of the number desiring to be heard.

The drys have not made public their list of witnesses, saying they preferred to announce them after the "wets had had their fling."

Testimony by wet witnesses before the committee was assailed today in a statement by the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The statement asserted that the drys might show better judgment if, instead of answering the wet charges, they requested anti-prohibitionists "to make use of the time granted to the supporters of the law."

"The statements made by the opponents of prohibition," it said have in many cases been so ill-considered, so reckless, so sensational, that they are calculated to cause a distinct reaction against the wet movement."

BONIFACIO TORRES REFUSED TO BE TAKEN TO REFORM SCHOOL

ALBUQUERQUE,, March 3.—(AP)—While preparations were being made today to bury Bonifacio Torres, 19, who Saturday held a posse of 200 men at bay in an all-afternoon battle, three victims of his gun were in a hospital here, one not expected to recover.

TUDOR CHARM IN THIS PICTURESQUE HOME

Picturesqueness of design is featured in this six-room home of English Tutor style. Although the variety of materials required make it somewhat expensive to build, the general outline of construction is temporarily simple. The home is most suitable for a lot between 60 and 100 feet in width.

Three bedrooms and two boths are included in thes econd story plan. The largest bedroom might easily be divided into two rooms, with one used as a dressing room for the bath is desired.

A tile or slate roof is recommended with a combination of stucco and timber for the framework. If a fence is built at one side of the house, considerable care must be taken so its design harmonizes with the landscaping.

Costs will vary widely with the materials chosen, but estimates in communities of mederate size place the construction expenss btwn $8000 and $10,000, depending on wage costs in different sections.

CONSTRUCTIVE CRITICISM.

Debate in the United States senate on the Hughes appointment and on the tendencies of the Supreme Court has served a useful purpose. It is a good thing for the country to hear frank discussion of basic institutions, especially when that discussion involves comparative estimates of the importance of corporate and human rights.

Liberal senators who opposed the appointment of Mr. Hughes to the chief justiceship of the supreme court and who deplored what they find to be the prevailing tenor of present-day supreme court rulings are deserving of commendation for thus dragging a significant clash of opinion out into the open.

Even though one may believe that Mr. Hughes is entitled to the confirmation which he eventually obtained, it is still possible sincerely to applaud the candid criticism expressed by the opposition. Such criticism has a wholesome effect. Smugness and self-satisfaction—fatal qualities in the case of a tribunal—are the inevitable results of unceasing praise and adulation.

President Hoover and Chief Justice Hughes cannot overlook the complaint that monopolistic interests have been swallowing human rights. The more conservative members of the supreme court are sure to be influenced to some extent by the raising of danger signals and to be somewhat more circumspect in their handling of judicial matters entailing conflict of human and corporate interests.

The American system of government is based on the principle of a balance of power as between the executive, legislative and judicial spheres. Whenever one of these spheres threatens to submerge rights and liberties which are supposed to be safeguarded by the other governmental divisions, protest is decidedly in order. And, since this is the broad aim of the supreme court criticis, their efforts deserve to be rewarded with public applause.

SUBSIDIZED EDUCATION

Some persons received with distrust and grave doubts the proposal of Henry Ford to spend a few hundred millions in building and conducting schools along lines conceived by himself.

No one will dispute his statement that the best existing educational systems could be improved upon and that the Ford surplus millions might be spent to good effect in this field. The automobile manufacturer has placed his finger on a real national and world need.

"Education" missions of uplifters and philanthropists often come under public suspicion because they turn out to be schools for propaganda rather than schools for true education. What these earnest and well-meaning men and women conceive to be the real purpose and need of education may not be acceptable to the raw material or to better authorities on the subect.

Mr. Ford admits that he proposes to have the students of his schools taught to believe what he believes. While he is not a fadist in the strict sense of the word, he has espoused certain causes and given utterances to certain thoughts and theories that place him in the same category with thousands of others who will believe the world is uneducated until it believes as they do.

Education is too often confused with propaganda. Propaganda seeks to win converts to a cause or to an opinion. True education has no other purpose than to help the individual to arrive at his own opinions and choose his own "cause."

Hot air and cold feet are usually pals.

JUST FOLKS

INEVITABLE.

Grief asks no man the state of his purse
Nor his business of the day.
No door so stout can shut grief out
No one has the power to say:
"It is not convenient now to grieve
On a trip aboard I'm about to leave."

Grief asks no man of his small affairs
Nor his trivial whims and moods
Let him plan as he may, grief chooses the day
And into his life intrudes.
There's none so busy and none so great
Who can sent out word that sorrow must wait.

Oh, be he governor, prince or king,
Or toiler or fool or sage,
He will shed his tears when the time appears.
And no guards that he may engage
Can ever stop grief at the entrance door,
Or tell it to wait for a few days more.

LOSES BET—AND HIS CAR.

A certain gentleman bet his friends he could drop a lighted cigarette into the gasoline tank of his car and that the cigarette would simply be put out, so the story goes. His friends took him up and the bet was made.

When he dropped the cigarette there was no hesitation or delay—he lost his bet and his car, too. All he gained was some painful burns, a lot of excitement and an entirely new knowledge of the properties of gasoline!

Perhaps the gentleman had read somewhere that liquid gasoline will not ignite—an exceedingly dangerous half-truth. You can't have gasoline in an open vessel without also having the deadly, dangerous gasoline vapor. And the glowing butt must first pass through the vapor, which is ignited by the smallest spark!

This incident should be a warning to all that gasoline ignites easily. Great property damage results each year from accidents with petroleum and its products and from their misuse. Reports to the National Board of Fire Underwriters for the year of 1928 indicated total fire loss from this cause at over $15,250,000.

You wouldn't play with dynamite. Give gasoline the same degree of respect!

POLICE "CLEANUPS."

Chicago has been staging another of those big underworld round-ups which are put on periodically by police commissioners in the larger cities more for the effect on the good people than for the effect on the criminal element. These obvious frauds have been perpetrated for years without materially reducing lawlessness nor increasing public confidence in the police.

Thousands of underworld characters were caught in the dragnet of the latest Chicago rodeo—with what results? Most of them were detained over night and then released. The worst got bail immediately. Aside from making a great hullabaloo the police accomplished nothing by their grandstand play. Even at the height of the round-up there was no appreciable decrease in murders, hold-ups and gang warfare.

Chicago's drive resembles that with which Police Commissioner Whalen, of New York, began his celebrated clean-up of the metropolis a year ago. When the commissioner's cheers for his own deeds had died out some one got at the statistics and found that out of 1,200 men rounded up 120 were held on grand larceny charges, and of those 117 were subsequently freed. On assault and robbery charges 179 were arrested and six held; of seven taken on homicide warrants none was held.

It is a mystery to the private citizen why the police, who always have sufficient evidence to warrant the arrest of hundreds in a circus of this sort, so often fail to collect the evidence necessary to convict these known criminals. Can the police offer a satisfactory explanation?

CHECKING A SPENDTHRIFT

ANOTHER COMMISSION.

This session of congress is bent on turning out new legislation on control of water and electric power. Something doubtlessly will come from the many proposals and lengthy discussions in both branches of congress.

While the interstate transmission, distribution and sale of power demand federal regulation, so many elements are involved in any program of control that exhaustive hearings must be held on the subject, and regulatory measure must be written with the utmost care so that the interests of both consumer and producer may be adequately safeguarded.

Senator Couzens proposes that the federal power commission, which now consists of the secretaries of war, interior and agriculture, be reorganized by substituting three appointed civilians for the cabinet officers and allowing them free scope to employ engineers, technical advisers and assistant personnel.

Whether this suggestion should be adopted hinges on one question. Is the power problem big enough to engage the full time of a commission? This question is answered largely by the degree of success or failure of power control under the existing commission.

Because it is generally conceded and complained that there is a superabundance of commissions should not prevent the creation of another if it is certain that the addition is necessary. In the opinion of some observers power control will be about the biggest job on the government's hands. But that song sounds strangely familiar.

Some of the biographies of the departed great, now on sale in the book stores, suggest that the writers got their information from campaign speeches of the opposition.

When the waters had subsided, and with no other wild-life expert around to take violent issue with, life must have been empty for Noah.

It is our earnest prayer that nothing will halt the road building program in Navarro county. State Press' sidewalk campaign notwithstanding.

We guess if Eric, the electrical robot, ever got into a serious automobile crash, it would be comparatively easy just to get the skull reblocked.

They can go as far as they like in London. Theoretically we would have nothing with which to christen a new battleship.

"PARROT DISEASE" NOT NEW.

Psittacosis has been prominent in the news for weeks, following the diagnosis of an illness in Maryland as "parrot's fever." The "parrot disease," so called, is a novelty to physicians of the United States, although it is by no means new to medical science. With symptoms strongly resembling pneumonia and typhoid fever, psittacosis has presented difficulties in accurate diagnosis. Doctors have assured the public, incidentally, that the disease is rare, and that there is no danger of an epidemic.

The "parrot's fever" has been known for many years as a disease of the Psittaci or, as the order is usually called, Psittaciformes—the zoological order to which parrots belong. The name of the order, according to Webster's New International Dictionary, comes from the Latin word "psittacus," meaning a parrot; the Latin word is borrowed from the Greek. Psittacosis is formed in the same way, from "psittakos," meaning parrot, and "-osis," a Greek suffix used in medical works to mean "an abnormal or diseased condition." Psittacosis, therefore, from its derivation would mean a diseased condition in a parrot. This particular disease of parrots is communicable to man.

Other "parrot words," with the Latin-Greek "psittacus" in their formation, are the following: psittacine, meaning pertaining to parrots; psittacinite, a mineral of a greenish "parrot color;" and other rather rare scientific terms.

Parrots are scientifically described as zygodactyl birds, which sounds formidable, but really means that, like woodpeckers, the parrots are yoke-footed, "having the toes arranged in pairs, two in front and two behind."

"You would think," said one of our more active ladies around town, apropos of Chicago's money crisis, "they would hold a bazar."

We believe this is the wrong time of year for parrot fever at its worst: Hardly anyone asks, "Is it hot enough for you?"

PREJUDICES.

Prejudice is one of the most omnipotent and omnipresent factors in the daily life of men. It obtrudes itself into every human act and dictates to men and women as the master dictates to his slave. Impartiality is only a relative term. Man doesn't know complete mental neutrality, although he frequently claims to be impartial and unprejudiced.

The witness stand in the court room is a perfect mirror for the reflection of prejudice. Each witness betrays his sympathies by his attitude on the stand and by his answers to questions put to him. While he may deliberately desire to conceal any prepossession he always interjects his opinion in his testimony.

While the politically independent profess no preference for party they inevitably reveal a predilection, although, to be sure, it may be of very slight margin. It is instinctive in human beings to entertain opinions and to express them. Very often people are not aware of their prejudices and opinions on certain issues or questions because they have not discussed or given thought to those matters. That which best illustrates the human instinct of prejudice is the immediate reaction upon the average mind of some new question. In such instances it usually is found that the average individual has reached an opinion before learning all the facts in the case.

Humanity will always entertain its prejudices and preferences, but a great portion of it no longer seeks to force prejudices and preferences, and a great many still do seek to force these on mankind. Prejudice is not such a reprehensible institution unless it forms an alliance with intolerance.

SUGGESTS RECALL AMERICAN DELEGATES FROM NAVAL MEETING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The recall of the American delegation from the London naval arms conference was proposed in the senate today by Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, who asserted there was no opportunity for naval reductions.

The Tennessee senator insisted that "in the present state of mind of the conferees representing the the other four powers, it is clear there is no possibility of disbarment or of a reduction of armaments, or even a limitation of armaments."

McKellar's suggestion started the first debate in the senate on the London conference since it convened early in January.

Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, replied to the Tennesseean, saying:

"I sympathize with a great many things the senator from Tennessee has said, but I believe he has given a premature American pronouncement based upon inadequate and insufficient information. Such contributions of advice to our delegates abroad do far more harm than good."

Western Navarro Farmers Planting Considerable Corn

BLOOMING GROVE, Feb. 28.—Farmers in this section have been doing much work during the past two weeks, taking advantage of the sunshine and dry weather. Plows have been busy and the ground is in excellent shape as a result of the snow and hard freezes of the past winter.

Considerable terracing has been done under the direction of H. H. Weatherby, vocational agriculture instructor of the local schools, and Henry Gentry, Navarro county demonstration agent.

Some corn has been planted and two or three weeks of good weather would see the farmers in this section up with their work and ready to plant cotton.

Validity Jones Law Upheld by Federal Court

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Validity of the Jones law, prohibition measure providing heavy penalties, was upheld by the United States circuit of appeals here yesterday in an opinion which held that an assignment attacking the constitutionality of the act was without merit. The opinion was written in the appeal of Neal and William Brady, convicted in Des Moines and given fines and jail sentences. The constitutionality of the act was attacked under the eighth amendment prohibiting excessive fines and cruel and unusual punishment.

Plane Crash Is Laid at Door of Cattle Thieves

WALSENBURG, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The theory of a pilot that his plane was crippled by shots fired at it by cattle rustlers caused an investigation today into an airplane crash that brought death to a high school girl and serious injuries to another on isolated Mosca Pass yesterday.

Miss Elsie Noble, 16, high school student at Pueblo, was killed and Miss Abra Tallow, 16, also a student at the school, was seriously injured. Harry Miller, pilot, suffered slight injuries.

Miller told authorities he felt two shots hit the plane after which an aileron refused to function.

NARCOTIC BUREAU SHAKEUP ANNOUNCED BY LOWMAN FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The transfer of L. G. Nutt, in charge of the narcotic bureau of the prohibition unit, to the position of a prohibition field supervisor and a general shakeup in the narcotic bureau was announced today by Assistant Secretary Lowman.

Responsibility for padding figures on narcotic arrests by government squads in New York was laid to Nutt recently in a report by a New York grand jury. The figures were the total arrests made by New York police and government agents, but the deputy commissioner explained he had sent them to congress to show the amount of work being done in New York and not with any intention of creating a false impression.

Harry J. Anslinger, assistant commissioner of prohibition, will temporarily take over Nutt's duties, effective tomorrow. Joseph A. Manning, narcotic agent at Nashiville, Tenn., has been sent to New York. Lowman announced, succeeding George W. Cunningham, narcotic agent, who will take Manning's post in Tennessee.

AUSTRIAN ARCHDUKE CENTER OF INTEREST IN NECKLACE SALE

NEW YORK, March 3—(AP)—Archduke Leopold of Austria, sausage salesman, occupied the center of interest today in the investigation of the mysterious sale for $60,000 of the diamond necklace which Napoleon gave to his empress, Marie Louisa, on the birth of their son.

The archduke, who is the grandnephew of the Archduchess Marie Theresa, former owner of the necklace, had ideas for making a fortune from the necklace. He was under supoena to appear at the district attorney's office today to tell what he knows of the sale of the necklace to D. M. Michell, a jeweler, by Charles Townsend, former officer in the British secret service.

Townsend's whereabouts are unknown since he left a hotel in Palm Beach, two weeks ago.

The archduke said he was present when the necklace was sold and the jeweler had promises to give him the silver setting when he had removed the diamonds. He said he planned to have other stones set in the necklace and sell it for $500,000 on the strength of its historic value and the publicity which has been given it.

Mrs. Victor Eisenmenger of Mt. Vernon, N. Y, appealed to District Attorney C T. Crain, last Friday to help her locate Townsend, explaining the archduchess had not heard from him since she sent the necklace to him here with power of attorney to sell it.

Dumas and Wood were accused of "planting" two men in front of the bank and shooting them for the purpose of collecting a reward of $5.000 "for each dead bank robber," offered by the Texas Bankers' Association.

No. 25.

Deductions for depreciation form an important item in the returns of many taxpayers and are the subject of frequent inquiries. "Depreciation is defined as "a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence".

In claiming a deduction for depreciation, several fundamental principles must be observed. The deduction must be confined to the property actually used in trade, business, profession, or vocation. In general, it applies to the taxpayers capital assets—buildings, machinery, etc.—the cost of which can not be deducted as a business expense.

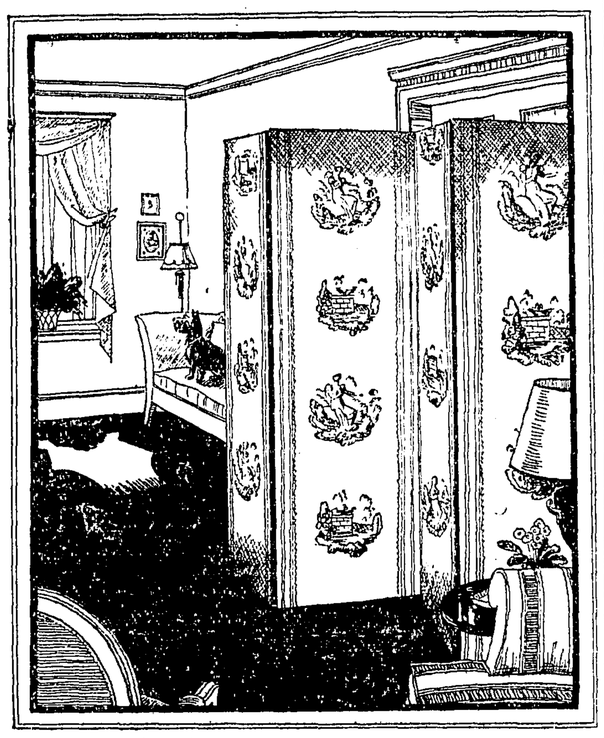

Depreciation may be claimed on all business property, which includes not only buildings and machinery of a permanent character but automobiles, farm tractors, mine and mill equipment, office furniture, and books. A lawyer, doctor, or other professional man may not charge off as a current expense the cost of a library used wholly in his profession, this being a capital expenditure and the library a capital asset. But he may deduct an —allowance for depreciation, based upon the useful life of the library.

Ornamental Screens Serve Purpose

A figured screen frequently is appropriate.

BY MARGERY TAYLOR.
(Interior Decoration Editor, McCall's Magazine. Written for The Daily Sun.)

Perhaps the new vogue of the screen means that we are about to return to the intrigues of 17th century Paris or the pastel romance of ancient Peking.

Less thrilling reasons, perhaps, are the growing interest in decorative details and problems of the all-purpose one-room apartment.

Whatever the reason, we can feel as glamorous as we please about a screen, even though it serves us by hiding, "things" rather than an Egyptian queen or a masked cavalier.

Ornamental as well as useful, there is a place for a screen in any room. In the dining room, infront of the kitchen door, it serves to mask the noise and odor of operations. In the living room, a screen can give an air of intimacy even to the largest room,

In the bedroom the screen serves as a shield against drafts and too early morning sun.

Wherever it is used, "just a screen" is not enough. It must be carefully chosen for color, design, size and height.

Wallpaper and chintz screen are popular at present, and so are screens with flower, map and hunting print inserts in the panels. You need not be deterred by prices because you can buy an undecorated wall board screen and cover it.

In making wall board screens, the board should be given a glue "sizing' and allowed to dry before papering. The edges of the screen should be bound with a border strip or turned under. For that old lacquer effect, coat with gelatin after the paper is put on and waterproof with varnish with a little orange shellac.

In a fabric screen, a less expensive base than wall board may be used. wood frame is enought. A straight edge of the material is tacked along one upright section, the top and bottom are pulled tight and tacked, and the section opposite the first is the last to be finished. A narrow gimp is then carried around the edge, held in place with tacks.

FRANCE CONTINUES TO DELAY NAVAL PARLEY; SPAIN UNEASY; SAN DOMINGO IN REVOLUTION

By CHESTER L. SHAW
(Cable Editor, Associated Press).

The London naval conference passed its sixth week with little definitely accomplished because of the absence of a French delegation. Private conversations were continued and the conference was officially in session, with the understanding that it would do nothing against the interests of France.

The downfall of the Camille Chautemps cabinet in France Tuesday wrecked hopes that the naval conference could continue with the French last week. Andre Tardieu is the new premier-designate. He is meeting much opposition from left groups.

The conference faced another slight threat last week in the British house of commons. Some quarters feared the MacDonald Labor government would be overthrown in the vote on the coal bill—thus taking another delegation out of the conference—but Ramsay MacDonald emerged victor by nine votes.

A speech in Spain Thursday by Jose Antonio Sanchez Guerra, former Conservative premier, caused serious unrest in that country. Sanchez Guerra, convicted of sedition during the Primo De Rivera dictatorship, but pardoned by the new Berenguer government, predicted Spain might soon be a republic.

The Dominican republic underwent a bloodless revolution, directed at the president. Insurgents occupied the capital, Santo Domingo. President Horacio Vasquez agreed to accept resignation of his cabinet and appoint Gen, Rafael Estrella Urena, leader of the movement, as secretary of the interior. Vasquez asked permission to leave the country because of ill health. He resigned Sunday, the secretary of interior succeeding today to the presidency. A presidential election will be held in May.

Haiti, occupying the Western half of the same island, seemed rather doubtful of the Hoover commission sent to investigate conditions. The commission invited any and all to give testimony at its first session Saturday. No one came. A spokesman for the opposition said everyone had been advised to remain away because the investigating group was a "second McCormick commission." The opposition charged the McCormick commission, which went to Haiti in 1921, advised retention of marines in Haiti.

Will Your Relatives Have This Trouble Over Your Estate?

It may be inconceivable to you that your own daughter or son may have to go to court to fight for her or his rightful shares of your estate.

It is difficult to picture aged parents pleading in court for what they had expected would be rightfully theirs.

Yet, the courts are full of such cases "But my son intended——" "My father promised me——" "My husband said——"

Unfortunately, the Law can take no cognizance of intentions that are not legally incorporated in your will —failure to keep your will abreast of your latest wishes —failure to make a will in legal form—is a most serious matter, and may result in grave injustice to members of your family.

LARGE SAVING TO INSURING PUBLIC INCREASED CREDIT

CORSICANA CREDIT INCREASED FROM THREE TO SIX PER CENT NEXT YEAR

A saving of more than $10,000 will be awarded fire insurance purchasers in Corsicana beginning March 1, 1930 and continuing for twelve months, because of the increase of the fire credit from three to six percent, R. A. Caldwell, chairman of the fire prevention committee of the Corsicana chamber of commerce said Friday.

This added saving was made possible through dropping of a heavy loss year in the triennium and the adding of a smaller loss year; the credit or penalty of a community is based on the record for the immediate past three years.

For two years, a three per cent credit gave the purchasers of fire insurance a saving of $5,100 per year, and that amount is doubled this year. The city will ultimately be able to enjoy a fifteen percent credit, if all citizens cooperate as they should according to Mr. Caldwell, which will mean a saving of more than $25,000 annually.

Mr. Caldwell continued:

"Effective March 1st, 1930, and for a period of one year thereafter the owners of property within the corporate limits of Corsicana will receive a six percent credit on their premiums for fire insurance written during the year. This credit is based on Corsicana's fire record during the past three years. It is possible to increase our good fire record credit to fifteen percent.

"On the other hand it is also possible to earn a fifteen percent bad fire record debit. Corsicana should be a maximum credit town and if the proper caution is taken and interest shown it can be made so. What has already been accomplished is largely due to the cooperation and fire prevention activities of our public schools. In addition to the fact that the pupils are taught fire prevention and that property destroyed by fire is an economic waste which reduces the wealth of community, state and nation, the teaching of fire prevention methods in our public schools gives us a credit on our basis rate regardless of our fire experience.

"It is true that we have had too many fires during the past two months to reflect favorable credit on our city, but if proper interest can be aroused this bad start can be overcome. Many people are glad to receive six per cent on their financial investments. This is just exactly what we are to receive on our fire insurance premiums during the next twelve months, and since this saving can be increased to fifteen percent, it would seem that the insuring public of Corsicana should take sufficient interest in fire prevention methods to earn this maximum credit.

"Each town in Texas earns its own good fire record credit or bad fire record debit by its fire experience. This credit is worth working for to say nothing of the property and lives that might be saved. This is every body's business—let's attend to it."

LOCAL GRADER AND MACHINE COMPANY'S BUSINESS GROWING

PLANT OF CORSICANA GRADER AND MACHINE COMPANY WILL BE ENLARGED

Plans for an enlargement of the main plant of the Corsicana Grader and Machine company were projected at a special meeting of the board of directors Thursday morning.

Reports for the past year indicated that the company was having one of the most successful years in its history. In spite of consistently bad weather in a majority of the trade territory, an unusual volume of business was reported. The company's fiscal year ends May 1.

A lot adjoining the main plant has been filled in preparatory to erecting a building to be used to store the reserve stock of the company.

Reports of a substantial cash and stock dividend were refused confirmation by officials of the company.

RED CROSS WILL SPEND OVER FOUR MILLION DOLLARS

MEETING LOCAL CHAPTER BE HELD TUESDAY MORNING CHAMBER COMMERCE

A meeting of the Navarro County chapter, Red Cross, has been called for Tuesday morning at 10:30 in the offices of the chamber of commerce it was announced Monday morning by Miss Augusta Helm, secretary of the organization. Mrs. Grace Ashbaugh, national field representative, will be present at the meeting.

Mrs. Grace Ashbaugh, national field representative visiting the Navarro county chapter of the organization states that the American Red Cross has just approved the expenditure of over four million dollars for the fiscal year 1930. Thirty two per cent of the entire allotment goes to the direct costs of disaster relief, which with the service to ex-service men and their families, constitutes the major obligation of the Red Cross.

Altogether it is estimated the $1,410,000 will be needed in disaster relief and this amount does not cover any special appeals made necsesary by overwhelming catastrope such as the hurricanes and floods of the past year.

Although the year, according to Mrs. Ashbaugh, was a fortunate one for Texas from the point of disasters, it was the hardest in the history of the national relief organization, there being 131 disasters. Contributions made to disasters goes to the specific disaster and although the burden was so heavy it is noteworthy that during the vear appeal was made on a national basis only in the case of the West Indies hurricane.

The second largest appropriation in the budget has to do with the work with veterans of the world war and for this, $756,240 has been set aside. During the fiscal year the organization through its national workers have assisted an average of 12,000 men and their families monthly and chapters have averaged 28,900 monthly.

The local chapter is to organize a committee on disaster relief. Wilbur Wright is chairman of the chapter and other officers include Mrs. B. Zadek, Dr. E. H. Newton, Mrs. George Jester and Mrs. W. C. Hilliard.

CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE DONE TO BRAWLEY, CALIFORNIA, AS RESULT SERIES EARTHQUAKES

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—(AP)—Two dead, twelve persons injured, including five burned seriously, and an estimated $3,000,000 property damage was the toll today of a disastrous fire that swept the Charbonnet docks below New Orleans and the steamship Scantic of the United States Shipping Board.

Roland Kreher, 3-year-old son of Mrs. Charles Kreher of New Orleans, died from burns received while with friends of the ship's personnel at a dinner as the fire broke out on the adjacent dock last night and spread furiously to the ship. His mother was among those seriously hurt.

Joseph Ryan, 26, messman on the steamship, was the other death victim. His charred body was found on the deck of the Scantic after she was torn from her moorings by tugs and towed into midstream, a blazing inferno.

The fire started in an undetermined manner among 15,000 bales of cotton on the dock leased to Anderson, Clayton Warehouse and Compress company and spread to the ship, cutting off the gangway and igniting the upper deck of the Scantic, laden with bales of cotton for export to Italy.

While the flames crackled through the great wooden wharf and leaped onto the ship, pandemonium reigned. Several men aboard jumped into the river and swam to safety. One woman, Mrs. Harold Mann, wife of the second mate on the Scontic, leaped into the water and was rescued by a tug. Others were rescued over the side of the blazing craft by boats.

As the steamship was towed into mid-stream, water was poured into the port holes and upon the blazing cotton while the rescue work was going on. The ship suffered loss of $75,000. By heroic efforts, land and sea fighting apparatus halted the spectacular blaze within a hundred feet of at least 50,000 bales of cotton stored on grounds of the compress company. The river was strewn for miles with a floating mass of burning bales of cotton lending a trail of the destruction to a wide area.

George Florine, boatman, was credited with saving four lives. He picked four persons up beside the burning steamer as they went overboard.

Harold Mann, second mate, said there were about fifteen persons aboard the ship at the time. All were believed accounted for.

CRAWLEY, Cal., March 3. —(AP)—Although its populace still was slightly nervous, Brawley went back on a "business-as" usual basis today after cleaning up the debris left by a six-day siege of earthquakes.

Bricks that fell from the walls of buildings and glass which crashed to the sidewalks during the heaviest shocks were hauled out of town quickly. Supplies of glass also were rushed here from Los Angeles to repair damage to store fronts.

The quakes began last Tuesday and were felt throughout Imperial Valley, from Calexico, on the Mexican border, to Calipatria, near the Salton sea. On Saturday at 3:47 p. m., the first major shock was experienced. It was centered here. Three other major tremors visited the same area during the night, and yesterday, in their wake, several smaller ones occurred, the last at 2 p. m.

One two-story apartment building virtually was wrecked and was condemned, and the walls of more than a score of other business structures were cracked.

Mrs. E. C. Durham sustained a fractured leg when a mass of bricks fell on her as she was walking down the street. A rancher was knocked unconscious by bricks falling through the top of his automobile, and a child was struck in the face by a piece of a cornice.

Many hotel guests here spent sleepless hours Saturday night sitting in lobbies and interrupting card games to dash into the streets with each recurring shock. Residents, however, apparently unafraid in frame houses, adhered to their routine.

Roaming the Realm of County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN.

The Corsicana high school Tigers will represent Central Texas in the annual state basketball tournament which will be held Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8 in Austin. The Tigers of Corsicana decided that question Friday evening by defeating the Waco Tigers 29-20 on the Trinity University basketball court, Waxahachie.

The local team put up a great fight in the final periods, and dropping back to stalling tactics in the final quarter, compietely outguessed the Waco aggregation and added their margin of victory by pulling the Waco defense away from the goal and then launching a spectacular drive which usually netted two points, with Jeffers and Granberry taking turn about doing the sharpshooting.

This will be the second year in succession that the Tigers of Corsicana have entered the state meet, having defeated Temple last year on the Waco high school court for the bi-district title. The team this year does not possess the talent of the 1929 squad but makes up for lack of experience in fight and speed.

Lester Jordan, sport editor of the Waxahachie Daily Light, who witnessed the game and marvelled at the uncanny accuracy of the Corsicana team's passing attack, commented on that phase of the game by saying: "Trinity University students who saw the Corsicana team win the bi-district championship by Waco here Friday night were glad that Corsicana was not a member of the Texas conference. The Tigers have a passing attack that would spell defeat for about three of the conference teams."

There seems to be some misunderstanding between the coaches of the county in regards to rules made at the coaches' meeting, governing entries in the annual girls' basketball tournament which will be held Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8, on the local Y. court.

According to announcement made Monday afternoon by Chas. McMichen, director of athletics, Navarro County University of Texas Interscholastic League, some 20 teams have sent in entry lists but five have remitted the one dollar entrance fee with the list, which, according to the rules, should accompany each entry list. Those complying with the rules are I. O. O. F. Home, Long Prairie, Roane, Blooming Grove and Petty's Chapel.

The Odd Fellows sextette, which was regarded as the best in the county three weeks ago, received a severe blow which just about puts the team out of the running for county honors, when Ruby Hitt, forward extraordinary underwent an appendicitis operation recently, and will be unable to play in the tournament.

With the fall of the I. O. O. F. teams in the county that have shown potential championship capabilities, judging by their performance on the local Y court in practice games, these are the Providence, State Home, Currie and Purdon sextettes.

Currie Basketball Teams Victorious in Three Encounters

CURRIE, March 4—(SP)—Currie basketball teams turned in three victories here Thursday, winning from the Providence girls 10-9, in the first encounter, while the Currie Independents defeated Providence cagers 25-18, and in the finals, the Currie second team defeated the Rushing sextette, 9-5.

Geneva Jones, Providence forward, took high honors in the initial game with seven points, closely followed by Campbell, Currie goal tosser, with 6.

Murphey, Currie forward, scored 11 points to lead the field in the second encounter, with Dubose, his running mate accounting for 10. Burks, playing forward for Providence, was next in scoring line with 9 points.

McGill, fast little forward playing with the Currie seconds led the scoring in the final game, by caging 5 points.

The Currie girls team is practicing daily in preparation for the annual girls basketball tournament which will be held Friday and Saturday, March 7 and 8 on the Corsicana Y. M. C. A. court.

BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION REVIVAL MEETING

A conference at the First Baptist Church of this city Saturday afternoon marked the beginning of the Baptist Young Peoples Union revival which is being carried on in the Misisonary Baptist churches of Navarro county during this week.

Rev. E. L. Liddell, associational missionary, and director of the training service movement, presided at this meeting Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the local first Baptist church, led a brief devotional. The details of the movement were then cared for, and the various visiting workers assigned to their respective field of work. The workers who had been engaged and were present, were introduced and given a hearty welcome.

The following churches are cooperating in this movement, and are considered very fortunate in having with them the experienced B. Y. P. U. experts named Angus Missionary Baptist church, Mrs. J. D. Garland, Cooper, Texas.

Bazette Missionary Baptist church, Miss Maude Burroughs, Seminary Hill, Texas.

Corsicana, First Baptist church, Rev. A. C. Donath, Lampasas, Tex.

Corsicana, Calvary Baptist, Miss Everitt Whitlock, Commerce, Tex.

Kerens, First Baptist church, Rev. G. K. Keegan, Seminary Hill, Texas.

Mildred Missionary Baptist church, Miss Sarah Willingham, Seminary Hill, Texas

Shiloah Missionary Baptist church, Miss Ida Branton, Seminary Hill, Texas.

The spirit of the meeting Saturday afternoon was very inspiring to the officers of the associational B. Y. P. U. organization A special word of appreciation for the splendid group of outside workers who were the chief factor of the whole movement is clearly revealed by the reports which have come in from the various co-operating churches.

It is hoped that all who read this article will consider themselves invited to attend this B. Y. P. U. revival, at the church nearest. Meetings are to be held each night. The work is to cover special training coures in the field of young people's work.

Workers and representatives from the various churches are to meet each afternoon at 2:00 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the problems encountered in the progress of the work. At these meetings a devotional service, led by the various workers, will preceed the discussion period.

The climax of the movement is expected next Sunday afternoon, At this time there is to be a general rally with representatives present from all the Missionary Baptist churches of Navarro county. Mr. T. C. Gardner, B. Y. P. U. Missionary of the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, is to be the speaker. All young people should hear this interesting man who is universally known as "Big Chief' Gardner.

At this meeting Mr. Gardner is to award an efficiency banner to the church making the highest grade on the following considerations:

1. Enrollment in study classes equal to resident membership of church 100 points.

2. All persons enrolled in classes taking examination 100 points.

3. Organization of all new "Unions" needed according to discovered constituency of church 100 points.

4. All new leaders and workers needed actually enlisted, elected, and installed, 100 points.

5. Attendance at rally Sunday afternoon equal to resident church membership 100 points.

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAMS SLOW FILING FOR COUNTY MEET

ONLY FIVE HAVE SIGNED UP BUT OVER TWENTY EXPECTED TO ENTER

Only five Navarro county girls basketball teams have complied with the rules set down at a recent meeting of the county coaches held in office of the county superintendents, and remitted the $1 entrance fee with the list of players to participate in the annual girls basketball tournament which will be held on the local Y count Friday and Saturday, March 7-8, it was announced Monday afternoon by Charles McMichen, Frost, director of athletics.

Twenty teams, he stated, had sent in the list of players but only the I. O. O. F. Home, Long Priarie, Roane, Petty's Chapel and Blooming Grove, had sent in the fee.

Drawing for places in the tournament will be held Friday morning at 10 in the lobby of the Y. M. C. A., and it is expected that the list of teams entering will be increased to twenty or more by that time.

The Odd Fellows sextete, winner of the tournament last season, received a severe blow to their championship hopes recently when their star forward, Ruby Hitt, underwent an appendicitis operation, and will be unable to play in the tournament. Since her loss to the team, it has lacked the scoring ability and has been defeated twice.

A number of ambitious teams have been using the Y court during the past few weeks in preparation for the tournament, and judging by their play it seems like the providence, State Home, Currie and Purdon sextettes are favorites to pull through to the semifinals.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT FIRST BAPTIST SUNDAY SERVICES

"NEIGHBOR DAY" OBSERVED SUNDAY WITH SERMONS BY PASTOR WILLIAMS

"Neighbor day," observed at the First Baptist church yesterday, resulted in large attendance at both morning and evening services, A number of people brought their neighbors with them to church. The pastor, Dr. J. Howard Williams preached on "Neighbors We" at 11 a. m., and laid emphasis upon the high importance of being neighborly, linking this duty and privilege with that of love of God.

"The King on the Cross," was the evening sermon subject, in connection with which Glenn Booher sang a solo, "Near the Cross," while an illuminated cross was displayed in telling effect. The pastor read the scriptural account of the crucifixition of Jesus, and preached therefrom. A male quartet rendered a number, as did the chorus choir, with Mrs. Ann Bigham Lindsey at the pano.

Announcement was made during the day of the B. Y. P. U. revival which is scheduled for this week, comprising a visitation yesterday afternoon in which approximately forty workers are said to have visited in the homes of present and prospective B. Y. P. U. members, in the interests of regular attendance and of the training school which is also a feature of the revival.

Six Courses of Study

Six courses of study will be offered in the school, which is to be led by Rev. A. C. Donath, pastor of the First Baptist church of Lampasas. Rev. Mr. Donath is due to arrive in Corsicana this afternoon and to be present at a luncheon to be served at 6:15 o'clck at the church for all who will attend the training work. The luncheon is a special features for first evening of the school. On other evenings the classes will begin at 7 o'clock. An inspirational address will be given by Rev. Mr. Donath each evening from 7:45 to 8:15 in the church auditorium. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend, according to B. F. K. Mullins, general director of the B. Y. P. U.

The attendance at Sunday school yesterday was 726. The primary department, Mrs. J. C. Browning, superintendent, had 88 present, surpassing the quota of the average attendance goal by 3. Other departments are expected to reach or surpass their goals next Sunday, it is stated by those in charge.

An increase in attendance on the B. Y. P. U. or training service was noted, with 190 present. The two senior unions, the Williams Union and the newly organized Timothy Union, are said to be doing especially good work. It is hoped that enrollment in the training school this week with total 150 or more. All classes will be at night except one, "Bible Heroes," which is given at 3:45 p. m. in order to provide a course for those juniors who cannote attend at night.

New Orleans Cotton Lower.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—(AP)—Although cables were better than due, cotton opened unchanged to 2 points down. As wheat opened 1-2 lower, cotton eased off right after the start on liquidation and selling by recent buyers, May dropping to 14.99, July to 15.24 and October 15.40, or 13 to 15 points below Saturday's close. At the end of the first hour the market was steady and 2 points above the lows.

The market ruled rather easy and quiet most of the morning owing to the early decline in wheat, May dropping to 14.97, July to 15.21 and October 15.37, or 15 to 18 points below yesterday's close.

Near noon the market rallied 3 to 6 points on an apparent oversold market, but at noon the market was a shade easy owing to a bearish fertilizer Secretary Hester.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, March 3.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 8 points.

Relatively firm cables were offset by nervousness over the wheat situation, and offerings increased after the opening, May sold off to 15.17, and old October to 15.52. Active positions showed net losses of 5 to 14 points by the end of the first half hour.

Offerings were not particularly heavy and after the early selling had run its course, prices steadied on covering. Trading was quiet later with prices working up from 15.14 to 15.27 for May and from 15.50 15.62 for October. This partial recovery was not fully maintained, but the market at midday was steady and within 8 or 9 points of Saturday's close.

DUTY IS SOUGHT ON LONG STAPLE VARIETY COTTON

COMMODITY NOW ON FREE LIST WOULD CARRY DUTY OF SEVEN CENTS POUND

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—The senate today voted a duty of seven cents a pound on long staple cotton.

No record vote was taken on the duty, which would apply to cotton of 1 1-8 inch staple and over.

WASHINGTON, March 3. —(AP)—The contest in the senate for a tariff on a variety of long staple cotton grown principally in Arizona and California was opened today by Senator Shortridge, republican, California, with a demand for a duty of seven sents a pound on the product which is now on the free list.

Speaking for his amendment, which would make dutiable all cotton of 1 1-8 inch staple and over, Senator Shortridge said that while the United States produced far in excess of its demand of short staple cotton, the situation was the reverse with respect to the long staple, which is used principally in tire fabric and thread.

He said imports of long staple were increasing, adding that "the imports come from cheap labor countries, chiefly from Ekypt and to a large extent from Peru, with which the American farmer cannot compete."

English capital, he argued, was rapidly expanding the Eyptian industry and making domestic competition increasingly hazardous.

LEAK IN GAS CAUSES BLAST

SAN ANGELO, March 3.—(AP)—Leakage of gas from a sewer or gas main was blamed today for the explosion in a building occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Company here Saturday in which several persons were injured.

Officers said they had learned that messenger boys had stood in an alley outside the building and struck matches to see small flares of gas burn from the ground.

Fire Chief John Parker was of the opinion that gas accumulated under the floor of the building from a slow seepage and was ignited by a spark caused by a roller chair being pushed over a nail in the floor. The concussion of the explosion was believed to have blown out the flame.

SEEKS RAIL FACILITIES.

PLAINVIEW, March 3.—(AP)—Acting on the suggestion of Stamford commercial organizations, the Plainview board of city development has called a meeting here for March 5 of representatives of Stamford, Spur, Plainviw, Hart, Dimmit, Hereford, Friona, Olton, and the New Mexico towns of Roswell, Tucumcari, Grady and Forrest in a movement for further rail facilities in their territories.

Grain and Provisions

CHICAGO, March 3.—(AP)—Wheat underwent a decided drop early today, largely because farm board allies had ceased to buy country run wheat at the board's loan basis. A bullish showing made by unofficial estimates issued today regarding farm reserve stocks of wheat appeared to have been discounted in advance.

Opening 1 3-8@7-8 cents lower, Chicago wheat afterward fluctuated nervously, but rallies failed to hold well. Corn and oats were also weaker, with corn starting 1-8@3-8coff, and subsequently keeping near the initial range. Provisions were firm.

When closed unsettled 2 1-2@4 1-2c a bashed lower than Saturday's finish.

Corn closed 1@1 1-2c down, oats 1-8@3-4c of fand provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

SUPREME COURT TO PASS UPON LIQUOR PURCHASER GUILT

GOVERNMENT GRANTED REVIEW AND HEARING WILL BE HELD APRIL 14

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—The government was granted a review today by the supreme court, to test whether the purchaser of liquor, who gives an order for its delivery knowing that the order involves illegal transportation, is guilty of conspiracy with the bootlegger to violate the federal prohibition law.

The case was set for hearing April 14.

The government in requesting the review said it did not involve whether a purchaser of liquor was equally guilty with the bootlegger, but did raise the question of whether the man who placed the order had conspired with the seller.

The importance of the controversy was emphasized by the government in requesting the review.

It raised the question in the case of Alfred E. Norris, a New York banker, who it was alleged placed orders with Joel D. Kerper of Philadelphia. The government contended Norris knew that in so doing the question of illegal transportation would be involved.

DENVER, Colo., March 3.—(AP)—Clearing skies gave promise of relief today for the Rocky mountain region after a cold spell of the last few days that reached a climax with the coldest weather reported since January.

Butte Flat, Mont., was the coldest spot in the region yesterday with a mercury reading of 23 below zero. In Butte at the same time is was 8 below, and Helena's minimum temperature of 12 below came within two degrees of equalling the lowest mark ever recorded for March 2. The 14 below record was established in 1886.

Temperatures considerably under the freezing mark prevailed in Wyoming.

Cold In Southeast

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3.—(AP)—Winter rode a howling March wind across the South today, sending the mercury from spring-like heights to sub-freezing temperatures over a wide area, and brought snow to sections of Virginia and North Carolina.

The suddenness of the cold wave's arrival caught most sections unprepared after more than two weeks of balmy spring days, but damage, if any, apparently was slight.

Peach growers of South Carolina were not caught napping, and last night Smudge pots glowed in their orchards while snow fell out of the mountains of North Carolina and Virginia.

Governor Moody amended his message of last Thursday, sent after the two houses adjourned for the week-end, to include the regulation of pipe lines, a number of local bills, and a few of general application.

He submitted the proposal to extend the laws against libel and slander to statements made over the radio; the matter of granting authority to the commissioners' court of Wilbarger county to contract and agree to the construction of a public bridge across the Red river; enactment of laws to validate certain levee improvement district bonds ,held invaiid after the decision of the supreme court of the United States in the Archer county case, and the granting of authority to the commissioner of the general land office to procure and file in the general land office papers relating to the survey of lands by virtue of certificates issued by the state of Texas to railway companies, whicth records are now hled by individuals and private interests.

SECRETARY LAMONT EXPECTS BUSINESS TO SPEED UP SOON

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—A prediction that American business activity would speed up to a normal rate within two months was made today by Secretary of Commerce Lamont, who said a slowing down in the last three months had not been as extensive as had been feared, and that the approach of spring and warm weather would increase employment.

"My own opinion is that during the forepart of this year American industrial enterprise has had inevitably to slow down," he asserted.

"That slowing down seems to be passing over and with the usual increase of out of door work in the northern states as weather conditions moderate we are likely to find the country as a whole enjoying its wonted state of prosperity."

TAFT SOMEWHAT STRONGER MONDAY DOCTOR ANNOUNCES

WASHINGTON, March 3.—(AP)—After a visit to the Taft home at 2:25 p. m. today, Dr. Thomas A. Claytor said there was no change in the condition of the former president and chief justice, who had been reported as improved in a formal bulletin issued during the morning.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 3.—(AP)—Unless the condition of William Howard Taft undergoes some sudden change due to the arterio sclerosis from which he has been suffering, Dr. Francis R. Hagner said today "his span of life is undetermined."

Visiting his distinguished patient earlier than usual, Dr. Hagner said Mr. Haft's condition had improved from the critical stage of a few days ago.

The official bulletin issued by Dr. Hagner and Dr. Thomas A. Claytor, said:

"The former chief justice has had a good night. He continues to take some nourishment. A few days ago his condition was very critical, but he has slightly improved and unless some further change occurs due to the arterio sclerosis his span of life is undetermined."

Last Wednesday the condition of Mr. Taft underwent a sudden change for the worse, and his physicians despaired of saving his life. They believed it was only a matter of hours until his life would end, but the remarkable recuperative powers of the former chief justice again asserted themselves over the week-end. He rallied partially from the state of semi-coma into which he had lapsed and was able to recognize and say an occasional word to those about him.

His ability to take some nourishment also increased. The physicians today, however, gave no indication they expected the former president to recover from the complications of diseases which have afflicted him.

have been trying to end the losses of the penitentiary for the benefit of the taxpayers."

House Bill Conservative.

The house had passed an even more conservative bill than it espoused in the fourth called session. This time it woul expend $400,0000 in rebuilding, enlarging and improving the existing system without removing the headquarters from Huntsville. The bill of the previous session proposed $550,000 for this.

The senate had passed a bill to approriate $1,500,000, $500,000 to be spent on each, a new industrial unit to be built in Central Texas, moving the Huntsville plant and rebuilding it on the Wynne farm, two miles away, an improving the farms and facilities on the farms.

A conference committee was to begin anew the seemingly impossible task of bringing the two widely separated factions together on a plan which would please both.

Governor Moody had hope this could be done. He was not ready to give up, by any means.

Would Adjourn.

In the face of his optimism there was a movement to adjourn the legislature sine die. Governor Moody, told of the restlessness, said he was confident the element that felt the legislature had finished its work would be held down by those who realized much unfinished important business lay before them.

The senate had not considered the house bill to levy a $1 per ton tax on sulphur and the house had pending several revenue proposals, including bills to tax natural gas, theatres of all kinds, chain stores and other things.

The house committee on revenue and taxation had definitely decided it did not care to vote a tax on producers of natural gas, but the question whether it would tax distributors had not been determined.

Summer Schools.

Another important piece of business the legislature was expected to attend to was the matter of making emergency appropriations to sustain summer schools in state colletges and for eleemosnary institutions and departments. The governor had declined to submit appropriations, however, until the legislature had created additional revenues, pointing out that all available funds had already ben appropriated.

Independent oil producers were clamoring for what they claimed to be "productive" legislation, and the governor promised to submit the general subject of legislation designed to relieve the present distressed situation of crude oil.

There were 16 working days left in the fifth session, and Governor Moody anticipated sufficient unfinished business to keep the legislature busy until the 30 day constitutional period ended on March 20.

CHICAGO POLICE STAGED INTENSIVE RAID SUNDAY NIGHT

CHICAGO, March 3.—(AP)—Night clubs, street corners, gangster drives and pool halls were scoured over the week-end by police continuing their cleanup campaign, and 814 arrests were made.

Eight of those arrested carried firearms, and they will be added to the list now numbering more than 50 persons for whom police will seek prison sentences. Many of the men arrested were aliens against whom deportation proceedings are to be taken, and 185 of the total number arrested were found to have police records.

Three names familiar in gang affairs were listed: Mike De Pike Heitler, whom police often have charged with involved in organized vice; James Belcastro, once questioned concerning his reputed connection with the bomb trust; and Louis Clemente, whose name was brought into the Octavius Granady murder investigation.

SEEKS PROBE OF GRAIN TRADE FOR FARM RELIEF ACTS

WASHINGTON, March 1.—(AP)—Investigation by the senate to determine whether the grain trade had conspired to destroy the effectiveness of the farm relief act was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Senator Nye, republican, North Dakota.

The resolution also would provide that the senate determine whether the farm board had been "fairly interpreting" the farm relief act and carrying out its purposes.

The investigation would be conducted by the senate agriculture committee, which would be authorized to subpoena directors and officers of the Farmers National Grain corporation and other witnesses.

The committee also would be directed to determine whether the grain trade has instigated efforts in the world market which would "tend to depress the world market for American agricultural products and to reflect such depression upon the domestic market for the purpose of discrediting the farm board.

Inquiry as to whether the grain trade has been aided by banking or credit institutions or other interests "in any way associated with such institutions" would also be authorized.

When the resolution was read, Sen. Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, requested that it include an investigation of cotton and Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, suggested it should include corn, oats and livestock.

MISSIONARY BOARD MEMBER ADDRESSES HI SCHOOL GIRLS

Chosing as her subject, "Full Time Religious Service," Mrs. D. T. Landrum, a member of the National Womans' Missionary Board, addressed the girls of the high school at chapel period Monday morning, in connection with the vocational guidance campaign being sponsored by the local Camp Fire Girls' organization. Vivian Richardson, well known Dallas journalist, will be the speaker ot the meeting next Monday.

Mrs. Landrum opened her talk by saying she would speak about four words, the initials of which spell "time." In connection with the first word, "time," the speaker declared a person must be adjusted to the second, and be ready to do God's work on short notice. One must be adjusted to temperature, and weather conditions, in order to do religious work regardless of the severest weather. Mrs. Landrum pointed out. She declared a person should be adjusted to make the best possible use of existing surroundings and opportunites, and explained that many people who are doing mediocre work think they could be much more effective if the could go to aother town or school. She drew the conclusion that a person must be capable of changing themselves to meet local conditions instead of moving to other surroundings.

"The second letter "i" in the word time," the speaker explained, "stands for interest.' She declared aside from the many activities that hold the present generations atention, God's work should be given though, and young people should take an interest in His work.

Discussing money as the third word, Mrs. Landrum said that reliable authority shows that it is easier to get a young man or woman to train and do missionary work, than it is to raise money to pay a church's missionary obligations. The speaker declared that money raised in a community for charitable purposes should be expended for a worthy cause.

Mrs. Laudrum stated that people should put forth energy in this work of God, and in the end be joint heirs with Christ. "The motive of religious workers should be to harvest humanity for Jesus," the speaker asserted. Concluding, Mrs. Landrum said God's work should be uppermost in the minds of people, and be disposed of before personal affairs are cared for.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY EDUCATOR PRINCIPAL ROTARIAN SPEAKER

DEAN TAYLOR OF SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING TALKS ON "TWO TEXAS GOVERNORS"

Dean T. U. Taylor of the school of engineering of the University of Texas was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Corsicana Rotary Club Monday noon, his subject being "Two Governors of Texas." The program was in charge of Beauford H. Jester, who introduced Dean Taylor, Dr. T. P. McLendon and Lloyd Wheelock. Next week's program will be in charge of Dr. T. W. Wade, Preston Harrison and Dr. J. A. Jones.

Visitors Monday included W. A. Tarver, chairman of the State Insurance Commission, Austin Rotarian, formerly of Corsicana; E. D. McCarver, Cleo G. Miller, Dr. I. N. Suttle and Ray Edson of Dallas.

Dean Taylor and Dr. Suttle were classmates at Huntsville Normal and graduated with the class of 1879.

As a tribute to Dean Taylor, the club sang "The Eyes of Texas," the official song of the University, under the leadership of Charles Mansfield, with Joel C. Trimble at the piano. Dean Taylor outlined some of the history of the song, which was written in 1902, and complimented the singing of the song by the local Rotarians as being like it was written and intended, without jazzing it, as is sometimes done.

Dean Taylor stated in the beginning of his remarks that he would compare two governors of Texas, close friends of his, both of whom left their impress in the legal, political and other phases of Texas' development. The first governor referred to signed the bill crating the University of Texas, was a senator, took a prominent part in all affairs, but admitted that he had been a failure because he had neglected his children and their education until it was too late. The other governor referred to was governor and could have been elected U. S. senator, but calling his four minor children together in the governor's mansion, his wife having died a year before, put the issue squarely up to his children, who appealed to him to stay with them, and he immediately wired his refusal to consider the race.

As he concluded his remarks, Dean Taylor said that his message to the Rotarians was "Stay With the Kids."
